Watch Out for the Acid Snow!

Sometimes it snows a lot in the winter. It's fun to play in the snow. But let's be careful. Did you know that there are harmful acids in the snow? Acid snow can cause skin troubles and allergies. It can also cause eye diseases. So, if you have to go out on a snowy day, make sure to take your umbrella. Wear your mask, too. When you return home, take a shower. Also, wash your clothes. It's sad, but don't play in the snow for too long this winter!

The Snow-covered Great Wall

This picture was taken on January 10. It snowed a lot in China recently. In the picture, the Great Wall ^{만리장성} is covered in a white blanket. white clothes. Doesn't it look peaceful? The setting sun is shining all over the mountains. I wish I were there right now. If you have a chance to visit China, make sure to go see the Great Wall!
