The Hypno-Trance

“Arrr!” said Pete.

He swished his pirate sword.

He jumped on his pirate bed.

“Come downstairs, Pirate Pete,” called his mom.

Pete told Teddy to guard the loot.

Pete ran downstairs.

"Will you play pirates with me?"
he asked.

Pete's mom said no.

Pete's mom never wanted to play pirates.

She did not like pirates.

She said pirates were not polite.

But she had a nice surprise.

"Wow!" Pete said.

"Tickets to see the Amazing Marco today!"

Pete and his mom went to the show.
The lights dimmed.
The crowd got quiet.
“Ladies and gentlemen—
the Amazing Marco!”
boomed a voice from behind them.

The Amazing Marco pulled a rabbit out of his hat.
"Ooooh!" said the crowd.

10

The Amazing Marco cut
Zelda, his helper, in half.
"Aaaah!" said the crowd.

It was time for Marco's most amazing trick . . .
the Hypno-Trance!

The Amazing Marco picked
Pete's mom.
He told her she was getting sleepy.
Pete's mom closed her eyes.
"What should she be when she wakes up?"
Marco asked the crowd.

"A pirate!" Pete called.
The Amazing Marco turned to Pete's mom.
"When I clap my hands,
you will be a pirate," he said.
He clapped his hands.

Pete's mom opened her eyes.
"Arrr!" she said.
"I am a salty old pirate.
Give me your loot!"
Everyone cheered.

Suddenly Zelda ran onstage.
"Your wife is having the baby!"
Zelda told the Amazing Marco.
"Yikes!" cried Marco.
"The show is over, folks!"
He ran off the stage.

"Wait!" Pete called.
"My mom is still a pirate!"
"Oh, that wears off
most of the time,"
said Zelda.
"Most of the time?"
cried Pete.
But Zelda was gone.

Pirate Problems

Pete and Pirate Mom walked home.
It was not easy.
Pirate Mom tried to fight with Ms. Reed.

She called Mr. Collins a bilge rat.

She stole underwear from Mrs. Burt's clothesline.

Pete was glad to get Pirate Mom inside.
Pirate Mom fell asleep on the couch.

20

Pete hoped the pirate spell would wear off.
He went out to play.

21

An hour later, he came home.
"Yikes!" he cried.
A pirate flag flew over his house.
Pirate Mom stood in the yard.
She wore an eye patch and a pirate head scarf.
Pete's parrot sat on her shoulder.

Pirate Mom swished
a wooden spoon at the mailman.
"Arrr!" said Pirate Mom.
"Arrr!" said the parrot.
"Arrrrrrgh!" said Pete.

Pete dragged Pirate Mom inside.
Now Pete was really worried.
His mom had a job.
She couldn't go to work
with an eye patch
and a pirate scarf.
She couldn't go to work with a parrot on her shoulder.
"We need to find the Amazing Marco," said Pete.

Ding-dong!

The doorbell rang.

Pete told Pirate Mom to wait in the kitchen.

"You scurvy lad!

I will not!" said Pirate Mom.

26

Ding-dong! Ding-dong!

Pete thought fast.

"There is loot in the kitchen."

"Shiver me timbers!

Why didn't you say so?"

Pirate Mom ran out of the room.

27

Pirate Mom burst through the door.
She waved a frying pan in the air.
"Yo ho ho!" she said.
"Give me your loot!"
"Oh my," said the people.

30

Pete thought fast again.
"Mom thinks you should have a costume party," Pete said.
"It's a good way to raise money for the school."

31

"What a wonderful idea!"

said one of the men.

"All in favor say 'Aye.'"

"Aye!" said the people.

"Aye!" said the parrot.

"Arrr!" said Pirate Mom.

Marco's Surprise

Pete had to find the Amazing Marco.
Marco's wife had just had a baby.
So Pete took Pirate Mom to the hospital.

He asked a nurse where the Amazing Marco was.
"No pirates!" said the nurse.
"Wait here," Pete told Pirate Mom.

The Amazing Marco
was with his new son,
the Fabulous Harold.
"Come quick!" Pete said.
"My mom is still a pirate!"

They went to find Pirate Mom.
The nurse was hiding under his desk.
Pirate Mom was gone!

38

Pete and Marco heard a voice down the hall.
"Hand over the loot!"

39

Pirate Mom was talking to two men.

"Draw your swords, you yellow-bellied bandits!"
said Pirate Mom.

"We are not bandits.
We are doctors," they said.

Pete turned to the Amazing Marco.

"I like pirates," Pete said.

"But it is hard having a pirate for a mom."

"Oh dear," said Marco.

"I am very sorry."

Marco snuck up on Pirate Mom.
He told her she was getting sleepy.
He told her it was time to be Pete's mom again.
He clapped his hands.

She woke up.
"Where are we?
What happened?"
asked Pete's mom.

"Marco turned you into a pirate," said Pete.
"Don't be silly," said Pete's mom.
She bumped into a wheelchair.
"Maybe you should take off your eye patch," Pete said.

Pete's mom put her hand on her face.
She felt the eye patch.
"Oh my," she whispered.

The next day, Pete found a letter under the door.
It was from the Amazing Marco.
His mom read the letter.
Sorry for all the trouble.
Please accept this gift.
Two bits of paper fell out.

They were tickets for the Amazing Marco's next show.

"Oh no!" said Pete's mom.

"Oh no!" said Pete.

"Arrrr!" said the parrot.
